
Consent Form

DESCRIPTION:

You are invited to participate in a study “Labeling Smile Synchrony in Video Conversations”.

TIME INVOLVEMENT: The user study involves filling out a demographics questionnaire and watching a video of two people conversing while pressing a button when the pair is similarly smiling. It will take about 12min in total.

DATA COLLECTION: For this experiment, all data is collected pseudo-anonymously. We will collect demographics. If you exit the study, the entries you have made up to that point will be recorded. If you accidentally restart the study, you must start from the beginning. Contact us with the emails below in case of any issues or to ask for your data to be removed.

RISKS AND BENEFITS: There are no known risks associated with that study. None of the Data which we collect can be traced to a specific individual. There are also no Benefits to this study.

PAYMENT: There is no monetary compensation other than our gratitude. You will receive the opportunity to participate in cutting edge research.

PARTICIPANT’S RIGHTS: If you have read this form and have decided to participate in this project, please understand that although your participation is voluntary, we would like your involvement as much as you can afford. That being said, you have the right to withdraw your consent or discontinue participation at any time without penalty or loss of benefits to which you are otherwise entitled. The results of this research study may be presented at scientific or professional meetings or published in scientific journals. Your identity is not disclosed unless we directly inform and ask for your permission.

CONTACT INFORMATION: If you have any questions, concerns or complaints about this research, its procedures, risks and benefits, contact the following persons:

Maximilian Henneberg, Master Student (maximilian.henneberg@tum.de)

Chloe Egtebas, Doctoral Candidate (egtebas@in.tum.de)